DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Teshima '342.

See e.g., FIGs 1a and 1b and the associated discussion appearing in the BACKGROUND section.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2, 3, 6, 7, 9, 10, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Teshima as applied to claims above.

5. Regardless of whether Teshima discloses the additional structures or specific compositions recited in these claims, their respective uses in conjunction with microlenses were well known to those of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention. It would have been obvious to such skilled artisans to have employed them for their conventional purposes.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 7/9/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
  - a. Applicant has amended the independent claims to recite that the micro-lenses are purposefully manufactured to be larger and/or taller than the first set of microlenses. Applicant has also argued that this amendment overcomes the rejection because the Teshima reference teaches that the variation in the micro-lenses' shapes and size is not purposeful, but rather an unwanted by-product of inferior manufacturing process.
  - b. First, in that the choice of using the particular manufacturing process of Teshima may be deemed to be a purposeful act, the deviation in lens size resulting from deliberately undertaking this process may be deemed to be "purposeful."
  - c. Second, please see MPEP 2131.05 for the proposition that a reference is no less anticipatory if, after disclosing the invention, the reference then disparages it.

Conclusion

1. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO

Art Unit: 2815

MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
